FARM BUREAU MEMBERSHIPS TO BE BOOSTED

Closer contact between the business interests of the several cities and towns of the county and the farmers of the county is expected to result from the aggressive cooperation of members of the Santa Rosa Chamber of Commerce with the Sonoca County Farm Bureau in its Membership expansion campaign.

Will Organize Local Committees

Before the end of the current month practically every center of importance in the county will be visited, and arrangements made for local committees to assist interested farmers in each locality in a membership renewal and expansion of the Farm Bureau Organization. A joint county wide movement of a distinctly nonpartisian, nonfactional nature thus has been started, and the centers of population of Santa Rosa, Petaluma, Sebastopol, Healdsburg, Sonoma and other places will be enlisted in the building up of the farmers organization.

Means New Era For Farmers

To the agricultural interests this means a new era, for with this activity upon the part of the several civic commercial organizations of the County, will come a closer business relationship to the mutual advantages of farmers and business men. Linking rural with civic development will mean the prosperity of both sections of Sonoma County's population. The business men backing the movement in Santa Rosa, Petaluma, Sebastopol, and elsewhere are doing so at their own expense, both in sacrifice of time and business, and also through the maintenance of the civic Commercial organizations whose facilities and staffs are engaged in this movement at present.

Organized Farmers Powerful

Organization of practically every line of business, industry, trade, or profession has characterized the last few years, with the exception of the farmers of the country, except a few isolated instances. In the last year and a half the Farm Bureau Organizations of California, and other states and the National Farm Bureau Federation has demonstrated that there is advantage amost beyond calculation for the farmer when he bands himself with other farmers in a mutual organization for self betterment.

Its Voice Heard in Washington

Already the local, state and notional Farm Bureau has obtained results of an astounding importance to the farming business. Indercctly thru it, it has benefited every consumer and every American, and many foreign families. Its voice,—the voice of a million and a half farmers organized from Maine to Calif. and from the Gulf to the Canadian line, in forty-three states, has been heard in Washington in commanding tones. Men in high places politically and industrially, have listened to the counsel of its leaders.

Real definite results have been accomplished in the reduction of freight rates, the saving of crops solution of the car shortage for grain shipment and other farm products and in the climination of the unscrupulous middleman by new cooperative marketing of farm products.

Membership Campaign in January

In the first two weeks in January the Sonoma County Farm Bureau, through its officers and directors, with the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce and Commercial clubs at Santa Rosa, Sebastopol, Petaluma, Ifealdsburg, and other centers, will call upon the farmers of the county to enlist in this great national institution, and make more assured the successful work already under way.

EL VERANO GIRL MARRIED AT SANTA ROSA

Miss Julia Chelini Is Bride of Mario Repetto and Will Reside in San Francisco.

Miss Julia Chelini, eldest daughter of A. Chelini of El Verano, was married at Santa Rosa last Sundayto Mario Repetto of San Francisco.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Long at St. Rose's Catholic Church and was most impressive. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by her sister. Miss Anita Chelini who looked charming in a white serge dress and carried pale pink carnations. The groom's brother C. Repetto was best man.

After the ceremony the happy couple were showered with rice and escorted to the Santa Rosa home of the groom's parents where an elaborate wedding dinner was served. Many friends and relatives joined in the happy time around the banquet board and bestowed countless present, good wishes and congratulations upon the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Repetto left for a heneymoon trip after which they will take up their residence in San Francisco where the groom has furnished up a pretty bungalow.

COUNTY OUT OF DAMAGE SUIT

D. O. Lynch, who some months ago filed a complaint against the County of Mendocino and the Town of Ukiah City for $5.262 damages, yesterday filed his amended complaint in the case, leaving the County of Mendocino entirely out of complaint, and making the Town of Ukiah City, the sole defendant, after Superior Judge J. Q. White upheld the demurrer of District Attorney Hale McCowen Jr. to the original complaint.

Lynch alleges that on March 12, 1920, he was riding along the road to the County Hospital, driving some cattle, and that his horse rode under a guy wire between telephone posts, knocking him from his horse, knocking out his teeth, and otherwise damaging him.

The amended complaint will come to trial in the near future.—Ukiah Times Journal.

Lynch is father of Roy and Ernest Lynch, well known here.

FUNERAL OF MRS MURPHY

The last sad rites for the late Mary Ella Murphy took place last Sunday afternoon.

The home on Patton St. was thronged with sorrowing friends and relatives who gathered to pay their last respects to the departed pioneer mother.

Most lovely floral offerings, among them one from the Sonoma Grammar School teachers, and one from the Ladies Aid Society were conspicuous for their exquisite arrangement, and the more tender and intimate expressions conveyed in other flowers of old friends were all most touchingly beautiful.

Reverend Burchette and Isaac Cookman officiated at the services, Mr. Burchette offering up the prayers so conforting to the bereaved ones and Rev. Cookman giving a brief sketch in which he paid splendid tribute to the life of deceased. At the opening of the service Mrs. Adelaide Savacool sang a favorite hymn of deceased, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" and the theme and rendition were truly beautiful.

After the services at the home, the funeral cotege proceeded to Mountain Cemetery where the remains were temporarily consigned to the receiving vault which was banked with a profusion of beautiful flowers. The pall bearers were Messrs Hotz, Prestwood, Dobbel, Cameron, Hunter and Durant.

Interment in the family plot will take place at a subsequent date in the presence of the immediate family.

CHRISTENINGS AT ST FRANCIS CHURCH

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Church was baptized last Sunday at St. Francis Church. His cousins Angelina Maffei and Joe Maffei were sponsors.

The little of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Mundowski was christened Josephine Irene Mundowski, the god mother being Mrs. Erhardt Steiger and the god father, John Guilfoyle.

A NEW SERVICE STATION

A. J. Foster of Los Angeles seeing the possibilities of a modern serservice station at the Broadway entrance to our city has decided to operate the artistic station now under construction by Contracor Bean on the Deacon property opposite the Sonoma High School.

Mr. Foster is a son-in-law of Mr. Deacon and an-up-date young business man. He will be ready with his service station in the near future.

Mrs. J. Smith who has been visiting her mother in Vallejo has returned home.

CALIFORNIA BARLEY SEED FOR ARAB FARMERS

It became known here today that Colonel J. M. Birch, D. S. O., an attache of General Allenby's forces which captured Palestine, officially visited the University Farm at Davis recently to investigate cereal varieties and cropping methods, preparatory to returning to Mosul Mesopotamia as Director of the proposed experiment station and 5000-acre demonstration farm at that place. Colonel Birch will return with a supply of University of California Marmout and Four Thousand seed barley and about $100,000 worth of American machinery including tractors, plows, harrows, cultivators, drills, and combined harvesters.

After investigating the agricultural resources of the new British possessions in Mesopotamia, Colonel Birch reports that the Arab farmers have done only what necessity impelled for the advancement of agriculture. They are declared to know nothing of using special wheat and barley varieties to suit special conditions, and the field operations are of the rudest and most primitive character. Grain is sown and harvested by hand and is thrashed by trampling with oxen. The British government is declared planning an innovation in the agriculture of her new possessions in Mesopotamia and Arabia through the introduction of modern American seed, implements and methods.

NEWLY ELECTED JUDGES RESIGN OTHER JOBS

The board of managers of the Sonoma State Home met for the last time this week—that is, as far as the present personnel of the board is concerned, in regular monthly meeting. At this meeting Rolfe L. Thompson and Percy S. King of Napa, the former superior judge-elect of Sonoma county, and the latter superior judge elect of Napa county, by virtue of their election, must resign as members of the board, the law that providing that they cannot fill two state positions at the same time. Both have rendered splendid service in the welfare of the big institution in the Sonoma valley, where so many hundreds of unfortunates are housed, and their retirement is sincerely regretted.

As is the custom of the last meeting of each year, the wives of the members of the board of managers are attending this meeting and will witness the Christmas program given by the institution. —Press Democrat.

WILL DANCE THE OLD YEAR OUT

Events Social Will Mark the Passing of 1920 in Sonoma Valley.

Sonoma Valley will bid 1920 godspeed and welcome the New Year at several jolly social affairs both public and private.

The Sonoma Farm Center will give a mask ball and supper at the Womens Clubhouse to which the public is invited. A large number of maskers are expected and many clever costumes are being designed for the event. Prizes consisting of farm products and other things of valuq will be distributed to the best costumed and most original and best sustained characters. Peters Jazz orchestra from Napa has been engaged to play for the Farm Center ball.

At Glen Ellen the Panerazi auditorium will feature a holiday dance and ravioli supper. Appropriate decorations, good music and the famous eats will insure a jazzy welcome to the New Year and a good time for all who attend.

At Fetters there will be dancing and special holiday features and also at "The Lark" where Belber and Fillipini will entertain their friends.

Many house parties and small social affairs are also on the calendar for New Year's time.

SLUMP IN CHEESE MARKET FELT LOCALLY

The present slump in the cheese market caused by over production and the receipt of foreign dairy produce has caused the local creamery to curtail its purchase of milk from Sonoma Valley dairies. A sharp cut in the amount of dairy produce handeled had to be made, and now only cream is being purchased, most of the dairymen separating their milk, where formerly they sold the whole milk. In cases where dairymen do not own a separator the creamery owners permit them to use the company separator.

Unless the cheese market revives the Mission Creamery will be compelled to further curtail its local purchases. The big truck has been withdrawn from service and the cream is now being collected by C. E. Johnson for Messrs Vella and Sganzini.

The cheese made at the local factory is of the Monterey type and has always found a ready market in normal times. The demand for butter is still good.

THE LATEST IN MILLINERY

Mrs. Gudgel of San Francisco has opened a millinery department at Kaplan's store and makes and remodels to order. The new milliner carries a good line of the latest models.

CHRISTMAS TREES AN AGE-OLD CUSTOM

Very commonly the question is raised as to whether the cutting and use of trees for Christmas purposes is not a great waste, and whether teps shond not be taken to discourage or prohibit it. In the opinion of U. S. Government department afficia the custom is so old, so well grounded, and so venerated, that even if it were economically somewhat indefensible, these aspects will and should continue to outweigh economic considerations. It is denied however, that pure economic considerations would lead to the abandonment of the Christmas-tree custom. Trees are for use, they argue, and there is no other use to which they could be put that would contribute so much to the joy of mankind as their use by children on this one great holiday of the year. Further, particularly in the Northeastern States, a large proportion of the Christmas trees are cut from pasture lands on which they are encroaching or from land which would be cleared up in the ordinary course of farm improvement The trees would be cut in any event. A market for them gives the owners some return for their labor if nothing more. It is true that in the vicinity of large cities the Christmas-tree supply s sometimes secured in such a way as to be destructive of young growth. This, of course, should be discouraged.

STORK'S CHRISTMAS GIFTS

The stork's doing its share toward Christmas gladness and Dr. Hays reports two arrivals of pretty babes the past week. A little son came to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cleary on West Napa Street and and a little daughter made its advent into the Mangiantin home.

DR. BUTLER IS WITNESS TO HANGING

Dr. E. O. Butler, medical superintendent of the Sonoma State Home, who witnessed the hanging of the three gansters in Santa Rosa, described it as follows:

"I had just left a meeting of the Sonoma County Medical Society in Dr. J. H. Shaw's office and started to drive my automobile around the courthouse.

"I ran right up to a mob of 100 masked men, all armed with shotguns and rifles. Those at the edge of the crowd shouted, "Go back!" I backed up and turned around, leaving my machine in front of Dr. Shaw's office. We held a conference in the doctor's office, but could not come to any conclusions as to what to do except to find a police officer. We dispatched one of our members for an officer, while seven of the party proceeded on foot back to the courthouse.

"Just as we reached there we saw a crowd of men in confusion coming from the jail. We were kept a half block away by the armed masked guard. As the victims were thrust into the machines all the members of the party rushed into their cars and simultaneously lighted their front lights. In perfect order they started out, twenty-four cars in all.

"Our party followed in my automobile to the cemetery. We were forced to stop within 500 feet of the graveyard with a dozen other machines of spectators. A masked and armed guard kept the crowd back about 400 feet from the scene of the hanging. All the lights of the lynching band's automobiles were out with the exception of one spotlight, which was shining on the three dangling bodies. After a few minutes the spot light was turned off and the spectators left.

I did not notice any numbers on the automobiles. If the numbers were lighted up we could not see them from the distance."

AMERICAN LEGION BANQUET AND SMOKER TONIGHT

Members of Valley of the Moon Post 120 American Legion and their friends will enjoy a fine banquet tonight at Woodmen Hall. A smoker and jinks will follow the elaborate menu. A special menu card replete with joshes and showing a variety of good eats has been specially designed for the occasion.

All ex-service men will be given a warm welcome. Many out of town visitors are expected.

ADDITIONAL DONATIONS TO THE FIRE ENGINE

JACK LONDON BIOGRAPHY TO BE PUBLISHED SOON

Late Author's Widow Closes Contract With Publishers For Book Which Promises To Be Literary Sensation of 1921.

After two years work at her ranch near Glen Ellen on the biography of Jack London, the talented widow of the late author, has completed the astounding and absorbing story of his life and has sold it to publishers both here and in England. The editions will be brought out simultaneously some time during 1921. The Century Company will bring it out here. The contracts which Mrs. Charmian London has received for the Biography are handsome ones and considering the cost of publishing the exhaustive work which will be in two volumes, the contracts are flattering testimonials to the literary skill and intuition of Mrs. London.

In the story she has written of Jack London's life she is said to have grasped all that the world has wanted to know of the real London and has answered questions illuming many sides of the popular writer's nature. She has risen above the sentimental bias of a wife and proved herself first of all an analyist and litterateur of the first order

Mrs. London opens the book with a foreword in which she recognizes the avalanche of criticism which will descend upon her for her daring in presenting this work.

Her Prologue is a gem glittering with the freshness of her impressions of Jack London at their first meeting.

Her background is Jack London's ancestry and she then plunges into the rugged story of his life; the first volume concluding with his ill-fated first marriage, the second volume taking up life anew at his second alliance. The story is brought right down to the sudden ill timed end where the Great Divide interposes.

The publishers are enthusiastic over the Biography and such intimates of Jack London as the poet George Sterling declare it to be not only a wonderful revelation but a literary triumph.

SONOMA COMMENDS AND ENDORSES THIS LETTER

With a view to bringing the attention of the State Highway Commission to the crying necessity of the road waiting to be built between Sonoma and Santa Rosa, the Press Democrat of that city addresses a letter to the Commission which Sonoma Valley will not only highly commend but endorse. Sonoma city has stirred itself to the point where it voted $54,000 to pave its streets and feels that if a place this size can set its house in order, that state agency should surely join hands in the march of progress. Wake up you gentlemen of the State Highway Commission and take the desired action on the following letter:

Gentlemen:—

We know that you as a representative department of the state government are anxious to do everything possible toward gratifying the wishes of the public. You therefore will be interested in the sentiment of Sonoma county people as regards the Sonoma-Santa Rosa road.

We take the liberty of reporting this sentiment to you in the belief that when you understand the situation here you will exert every effort to lend us your assistance.

It is unecessary to recall that the state highway bond program for which Sonoma county has subscribed very generously, includes the building of a highway between Santa Rosa and the Napa county line via Sonoma. What you are unminded of, perhaps, is the great importance of this highway to Sonoma county and the people of California generally.

It is possible that you may not appreciate fully how much the people need this highway. As a matter of fact our need is so great that the people of this county do not understand why there is not some action toward its construction They feel that they have waited long and patiently, and so far they have suffered their losses in comparative silence. However, gentlemen, expressions commonly heard throughout Sonoma county are unanimous in asking why the road is not built. We are confronted with this question every day.

When you understand that the road as it stands at present is so rough that is seriously retards necessary travel and intercourse between Santa Rosa, the county seat, and that large section of the county which includes the productive Sonoma Valley, and from thence on to the great Sacramento valley, you will readily appreciate the loss that we incur. Business men say that the most important thing that can be done for them is to have this highway built.

Farmers, who want to market their produce, say the same thing. The present condition of the road is costing us thousands of dollars every week, sometimes that much in a single day.

We appreciate the fact that you have had almost insuperable problems to solve in consummating the state's great highway program, but nevertheless we feel that this particular highway is so important that its construction should not be put off any longer. When built, it will be a connecting link between the central part of the state and the coast section, so that its importance is by no means confined to this county.

What we respectfully urge, gentlemen, is an assurance from you that the highway will be built in the near future. We would like to know just what the situation is and what we may expect.

Yours for co-operation,

THE PRESS DEMOCRAT.

Radicals Get Surprise

THE GREATEST FEATURE of national importance at the recent elections was the collapse of the claims of leaders of so-called class movements in the United States.

The Socialist party polled nearer 2,000,000 votes than 5,000,000 which it expected it would get and the Farmer Labor party expected to receive hundreds of thousands of votes from progressives of various parties. It did not even dent the American consciousness. The Non-Partisan League believed it would sweep several states but it not only failed to carry a single new state or to elect an official of any importance in any one of them, but it met disastrous reverses in its own state, North Dakota.

Education of the public to the radical affiliations and aims of all these organizations and the development of a sound public consciousness is what defeated their plans. As the Dearborn Independent says: The American citizen makes a poor red. He is not even rose pink." Manufacturer.

AND NOW THEY want to make the Phillipines "dry". The cost of policing the islands with booze sniffers might not be so high consdering that mince pies and plum puddings are unknown there.

ONE OF THE San Francisco gangsters wants a change of venue. Why not bring him to Sonoma County?

JUST ONE WEEK until Christmas. Shop early and often. Buy in Sonoma.

COMING ATTRACTIONS AT THE NEW HIPPODROME, NAPA

The architects and contractors are about to turn over to the owners of the Hippodrome the house completed. This splendid amusement temple affords amusement lovers throughout the whole territory contiguous to Napa an opportunity of seeing the best of motion pictures in a modern metropolitan theatre at reasonable prices.

The bill at Napa's new theatre for next week starting Sunday December 19 with a big vaudeville show, the Hippodrome orchestra of fifteen pieces under the baton of VanOsten, and "Held By The Enemy", William Gillette's great war story and play makes a wonderful entertainment.

The picture is a drama of some of the battles which were not waged on a battlefield—a drama of the heartaches that were suffered by the "folks at home", in the South, during the American Civil War.

There are many thrilling moments in the action. The cast is exceptionally fine and includes Agnes Ayres Wanda Hawley, Lillian Leighton, Jack Holt, Lewis Sone, Robert Cain, Walter Hiers and others. The piewas directed by Donald Crisp.

On Wednesday and Thursday, December 22 and 23 "Humoresque" Fanny Hurst's story of "HUMORESQUE" will be the attraction with added features.

The intensely human atmosphere of the novel is said to have been incorporated into the picture with singular success.

The story centers around Leon Kantor, a boy of the Ghetto who shows an intense love for music. His mother who has always wanted a musician-son, is delighted and on his seventh birthday buys him a violin. Leon's playmate is pretty Gina Ginsberg. Fifteen years later, Leon is a recognized genius. On the night of his triumph at a big concert given for his people of the Ghetto, he enlists. Leon returns from France with a shattered shoulder and it said that he will never be able to play the violin again. Leon's music is his all. He becomes morose and discouraged. Before the war he had become engaged to Gina. Now he wishes to release her from marrying him—a cripple. But in a very wonderful way he is restored to full strength and, to the joy of his mother and Gina, turns toward new conquests in the realm of music.

Alma Rubens is the featured player in "Humoresque," and Gaston Glass and Vera Gordon are also included in the cast.

CONGRESSMAN LEA BACK ON THE JOB

In a letter received from Congressmon Clarence F. Lea he tells of the pleasant journey he and Mrs. Lea had across the continent and the warm welcome given them by a number of Mr. Lea's fellow congressmen, who like himself, had come to Washington some days ahead of the opening of the short session. At the time of writing no snow had fallen in Washington, but the weather was cold and foggy.

Since his arrival in Washington, Mr. Lea has busied himself in assembling necessary data for some measures affecting his district, which he expects will be reached before Congress adjourns. He will also attend a meeting of the National Rivers and Harbors congress at which some matters of importance in the Sacramento valley section will be up for discussion.

GRAPE SYRUP PLANT PLANNED FOR ASTI

A new and complete grape syrup plant to be located at Asti has been contracted for by the Asti Grape Products company, it is reported. The company had most of its processing done at the Zerillo plant in Healdsburg last season and reports a heavy demand from the trade, which has caused the plans for a larger output from its own plant next year.

GENERAL VALLEJO GAINS VOTES FOR HALL OF FAME

The name of General M. G. Vallejo continues to occupy a prominent place in the Bulletin contest for the Hall of Fame candidates from California. General Vallejo is second, Padre Serra being in the lead. It is pointed out that General Vallejo importance is steadily being recognized one of his strong claims as a favorite Californian being the fact that he named all the counties of our Golden State.

His descendants still contribute material for historians and their poetical nature is gleaned from the translation of the various names of nearby mountains as told by the General's son, Dr. Vallejo of Vallejo, California in the following narrative concerning prominent hills in this vicinity.

Dear Sir:

Yours received and in reply I send you as follows:

The mountains to the west of Sonoma Valley were called by the Suysan tribe of Indians "The Yulupa Islands", hence "The Yulupas"—the name given to the hills between Petaluma and Sonoma Valley. These mountains and valleys were covered with fresh water at one time (Indian tradition), and the tops of the hills (Tamalpais included) were called "The Islands of the Setting Sun", "yulu" meaning plunge in the lore of the native aborigines; the Yulupa Islands, the isles of the sunset of old, and the Yulupa Hills(or mountains) of our own days. The particle "pa" added to any of these words signifies in the Suysun dialect "at", "near" or "by", as "Tamal-pa" —"near the sea"; "Yulu-pa" —"on the side of the sunset" or "when He plunges into the sea"; "Suyu"—"birth"; "Suyu-sana"—"Sunrise (Suysan) birth of the sun".

The hills or mountins to the east of Napa Valley were known as "The Mayacmis", "mayac" having the signification of the hungry growl of the California lion when in quest of his prey. One of these nearly got away with me when I was a boy. I was out at 8 o'clock one spring day hunting ducks. So was he—this lion. I hid behind some stunted oaks the size of rose bushes. A large oak spread one of its branches near and over the spot where I was hiding near a pool of water, and I lay down on the green grass and turned on my back waiting for the ducks to come nearer. As I turned my face up I saw two big yellow eyes fixed on me from behind the arm of the tree. I could see only the eyes and face. I pulled the trigger (the animal was not eight feet above me), and in a second or two I stood up and saw to my surprise and delight a great big yellow cat bounding fast as he could toward the "Black Hill" between Sonoma and Napa Valleys.

I tell you this to let you know that lions, panthers, grizzly bears, wolves, coyotes and savages inhabited these beautiful valleys and hid among those lofty incomparable hills just about the time when I was a boy and was beginning to learn how to shoot. "Mayac" is the word expressing the lion's hungry call.

Now then, you wish to know the name of the mountain range between Sonoma Valley and Napa Valley. Why, "Sonoma Hills", of course! Sano, the moon, climbs over them and ascends into the skies filling the earth and our beautiful valley with its silvery light, and General Vallejo, who spent his life at the foot of the Sonoma Hills poetically and not untruthfully called the hills and the valley after that orb. These hills and nooks, mountains and valleys were the habitat of many wild beasts of which the ferocious grizzly was perhaps the chief. It was not the bear of the Bear Flag Party that has taken its place whilst the former has become almost extinct. The American people have taken the place of both so far—I mean the Flag! And long may it wave in peace and prosperity for ever.

Yours, etc.,
Platon M. G. Vallejo, M. D.

P. S. The Indian (Suysun) name for Grizzly Bear is Yapati Vista and close to the Huichica Hills lower down was called "Ginol-da" by the Indian natives, and it literally signifies "of th night", because it appeared dark from the valley when the moon rose and filled the valley with its placid light. "Gino" means the night; "sano" means the moon; "oma" or "uma" means valley; Sanoma" means valley of the moon.

This is not all I have to say about Sonoma, but I fear I may be tiresome in giving you more than you ask for.

P. M. G. V.

Dear Sir:

I forgot to mention yesterday in answering your letter prehaps the most interesting item (a big item) of your query and a most practical part or portion of my answer. I gave you, as it were, the circumference of the subject and now I come to the center, which is I think the true answer and, after all, what you want, or at least what the Washington, D. C. people want.

I heard my father say that the name of the tall mountains and hills were always ETAOIN ETAOIN E back of Sonoma for miles was given as "San Buena Ventura" by the missionaries and himself. These mountains and hills were always known by that name by the Californians of that time. I forgot to tell you this yesterday, I was so busy in telling you the Indian or Suysun tradition of things. I was also too thoughful and again somewhat thoughtless when I gave you more than you asked but not exactly what you called for. So I hasten to supply in my answer the most important part, I think. You will pardon me for the unintentional omission. The name of the mountains back of Sonoma between Sonoma and Napa Valleys is "The Mountains of San Buena Ventura"—a beautiful name.

Yours, etc.,
Dr. Platon M. G. Vallejo

WM. DALY SELLS PROPERTY

Wm. Daly of San Francisco has been in town this week on business connected with the sale of more of his Sonoma property. He has disposed of 36 acres and improvements to Irving Brusky. The property is in the westerly limits of Sonoma, and the Bruskys have been residing there for some time past.

Mr. Daly sold some of his holdings to Sam Sebastiani last year and though formerly heavily interested in Sonoma has now practically disposed of all his property.

PETALUMA TO HAVE A NEW THEATRE

Petaluma is going to have a new theatre to be constructed by Dr. J. McNear, which, according to the plans will be one of the best north of San Francisco and be built according to the very latest architectural designs. It will be a Class A. brick structure and will seat over 1500 people. The building will be used exclusively for moving pictures. It will be erected on a site on lower Main street, the exact location being kept secret.

According to the plans which have been prepared, two stores will take up some of the space in the front of the building, with the entrance to the theatre on either side. The seating capacity of the new theatre will greatly exceed that of the Hill. —Petaluma Courier.

FOURTEEN YEAR OLD BOYS AGAIN IN CUSTODY

Joe Bianchi and Mario Corelli, 14 year old Santa Rosa oys who had been wards of the Juvenile Court and skipped out only to get into more trouble, are again in custody. Their last escapade resulted in their burglarizing a home in Sausalito after leaving Santa Rosa, and with a quantity of jewelry which they stole they decided to come back up here and make a splurge.

Last week the suspicious acting youths are known to have slept in a barn at El Verano and the following day came into Sonoma where they attracted attention in a local candy store. While going toward Santa Rosa later they were overhauled by representatives of the Sheriff's office and questioned by Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan. The boys lug up a lot of jewelery including rings and lavalliers which they claimed to have picked up on the street. They were remanded to the custody of Probation officer, John Plover.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The following students represent their respective classes in the Honor Society this quarter: Freshmen, Beth Lane and Anna Nayes; Sophomores, Marie Anderson, Anita Camp, Donald Prestwood, and Arthur Ritz; Juniors, Hershel Hyde and Irene Tracy; Seniors, Marguerite Helberg

The class with the highest per cent of scholarship in proportion to its members is the Sophomore class. The class will be awarded by having possession of the Honor pennant for this quarter.

The Honor Society will have a banquet after Christmas at which it will discuss plans for bettering the school and furthering the interest of the students in the raising of their scholarship.

Our basket ball teams journeyed to Analy last Friday night where two lively games were played. Our 130 lb team lost by a score of 41 to 21, but our unlimited made up for this defeat by winning their game by a score of 23 to 10.

A Christmas party is being planned for Friday night at the Womans Clubhouse. Justified expectations are that it is going to be the best party the teachers, parents and students have ever had together.

Large, roomy seats, finely upholstered, plate glass windows make it an open car in pleasant weather, while in rainy and inclement weather it becomes a closed car, dust-proof and rain-proof. WILL HOUSE THE UNEMPLOYED

The general increase of the unemployment throughout the San Joaquin Valley, due largely to an influx of thousands of people from eastern states and other cities in California, has necessitated the establishment of a municipal building to provide housing for the unemployed. The action in Fresno was taken at the instigation of Mayor W. F. Toomey. An appeal is being sent to all cities in the state of California to take similar steps to care for their unemployed, instead of following the practice of "floating" all persons having no means of support. Although there is the usual amount of labor in the San Joaquin Valley for this season of the year, it is estimated that at least 6000 men more than are required have come into the valley during the past three weeks.

CASSASSA TRIAL TO OPEN TUESDAY

D. Cassassa, wineman, will go on trial in the justice court Tuesday, December 21, on a charge of selling liquor to Indians and subpoenas were issued by Judge Marvin T. Vaughan for witnesses.

The date for the trial of Cassassa was set this week by Judge Vaughan after attorneys for both sides had appeared before him on previous occasions and asked that the hearing be postponed. The first postponment was asked by Cassassa's attorney on the grounds that the aged wineman was to undergo an operation on his eye. The second was because he was to appear in the federal court at Sacramento to face a charge of violating the federal prohibition law.

Judge Vaughan set the date this week and notified both sides to be ready.

Cassassa was arrested several months ago and charged with selling wine to several Indians. Deputy sheriffs stopped the Indians as they were leaving Cassassa's place with two bottles of wine which the deputy sheriffs allege were purchased from Cassassa.

A charge of violating the federal prohibition act was placed against Cassassa Saturday when federal officers raided the place.

Cassassa came into the limelight last week when it was said by officers that he had been allowing Terry Fitts, Charles Valento and Geo. Boyd, gangsters and all ex-convicts to frequent his ranch and hotel. Fitts remained at the place several days prior to the shooting of three officers by his companion, Boyd, it is said.

The case has aroused unusual interest due to the fact that Cassassa has been arrested several times this year on similar charges of liquor law violation and also due to his wealth and large acquaintance in this county —Santa Rosa Republican.

CAMOUFLAGE IN WINE LEADS TO TWO ARRESTS

Camouflageing a truckload of red wine so that it resembled a consignment of canned tomatoes Joe Ponda and Steve Gunoa attempted to transport 16 50-gallon barrels of the intoxicants from Sonoma to Napa. But somebody tipped off the deceit to the authorities and Deputy Revenue Collector Nelson Welburn with the assistance of deputy sheriffs of Napa county, arrested Ponda and Gunoa.

The liquor was confiscated and the men charged with unlawful transportation and possession of liquor. —Chronicle.

GRAND JURY HAS BEEN DELIBERATING

Important Matters Being Sifted At Santa Rosa the Past Week.

The grand jury held an all day session this week, considering various county affairs, including additional assistance for the coroner, the recent lynchings, the social service commission work, the large number of county automobiles, and various expenditures which might possibly be trimmed down to the advantage of the taxpayers.

Coroner F. H. Phillips of Petaluma was the first one to go before the grand jury yesterday morning. He asked for assistance in his office as the work had more than doubled in the last 20 years he declared, and it required the time of one person almost entirely to do the clerical work. He wants an office deputy under pay to do the written work.

District Attorney G. W. Hoyle was called in and explained what his office was doing in connection with the investigation of the lynching Friday morning of last week, when three prisoners were taken from the county jail and hung in Rural Cemetery.

Probation Officer John P. Plover was called in to explain the work and results of the Social Service commission which is criticized by the report of the county expert. W. E. Greene who declared its work was a waste of time and money. Mr. Plover explained that the commission members gave their time and services without any cost to the taxpayers, in an effort to reduce the amount for outside aid to indigents.

Mr. Plover had figures at hand to prove to the satisfaction of the jurors that while the expenditures before the close investigation of applications for outside indigent aid was begun, that the county paid out $26,000 annually for that item alone while it has been gradually worked down until in 1918-19 the total amount was only $16,000 but owing to increased cost of living and high prices this increased in 1919-1920 to $17,000. The overhead cost for handling this work in 1918-19 was only $1004, while in 1919-20 it increased to $1150, but in addition to the outside indigent aid the same overhead took care of investigation in the matter of an additional expenditure of more than $10,000 for orphans and half orphans, met partly by state funds.

C. D. Stevens, custodian of the court house and county automobiles was called and questioned as to the use of the county cars, and other matters coming under his attention.

Later in the afternoon the entire membership of the board of supervisors answered a summons and appeared before the jury, where many questions were asked and explanations secured relative to the purchase of so many autos and other materials as well as the expenditure of large sums. The report of the grand jury expert, as well as complaint from outside sources that the supervisors had been exceedingly extravagant in many respects, was taken up with the members and thoroughly sifted.

When adjournment was taken after 5 o'clock it was announced that the grand jury would continue its investigaton of county expenditures by the board of supervisors, as well as the conduct of the various offices.

Charging that an expenditure of $14,000 had been uselessly made on the highways near Guerneville, a complaint was made before the grand jury Thursday and following the hearing of the report of a representative of the complaining Guerneville people, Max Rosenberg, foreman of the grand jury, announced that a committee would be appointed to investigate the charges.

The charges were based on the highway construction done during the past year in that section of the county and the results of the year's work were characterized as futile by the representative.

That a wave of indignation has swept the river section as a result of the road work was the report in the courthouse following the grand jury session this week.

COUNTY MAKING MONEY ON THE HIGHWAY BONDS

Starting Wednesday, December 15, Sonoma county will actually be making money from the recent highway bond issue, instead of running behind by reason of interest payments.

This astonishing condition of affairs has been made possible thru a brilliant scheme of Jas. W. Ramage, county treasurer, whereby he has secured a million dollars' worth of U. S. treasury certificates which pay Sonoma county a higher rate of interest than the county is paying for the highway bonds.

The bonds were issued at 5 per cent. Seven hundred thousand dollars' worth of the new certificates, bought with money from the bond issue, are paying 6 per cent. On this amount the county is making 1 per cent net. The balance of the million from the bond issue is in 5¾ per cent certificates, giving the county three-quarters of 1 per cent profit.

Prior to the 15th, the county was holding a million dollars in treasury certificates paying only 4¼ per cent, but the best possible investment at the time they were purchased. Anticipating their expiration on the 15, Treasurer Ramage took up with the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco the possibility of replacing these certificates, and was able to successfully terminate negotiations which now return a profit to the county on $1,000,000 worth of the highway bond issue.—Press Democrat.

POET GLIMPSES TRUE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

CHRISTMAS KINDNESS

At Christmastide, Oh! be thou tender, true;
Thy friends make glad, and all thy foes forgive;
With its sweet light begin to live anew
Ungrudging give, and, giving, much receive.

Make thy glad life grow large, thy soul expand;
Let there be one full day within the year
When love shall open wide thy waiting hand,
To lessen want and dry some bitter tear.

Give wisely, freely, of thy bounty give
And, most of all, do not forget, give love,
Since giving is the truest way to live,
And richest treasure laying up above.

Make glad thy home, let sunshine reign within,
Bless every hearthstone with thy largess fair;
Share with pale want thine overflowing bin,
By kindness save one brother from despair.

At Christmastide, then, be thou tender true;
Thy friends make glad, and all thy foes forgive;
With its sweet light begin to live anew
Ungrudging give, and, giving, much receive.
